

Monday

Dear Father,

There are days when it seems to the _____ family that much in life is stacked up against them and they become overwhelmed. When they are having days like that, help them to remember, Lord, that you are their witness in heaven—you have seen all they face and not one tear they have shed has gone unnoticed by you. But even greater than this is the fact that you are their advocate. I thank you that you are for them and that their hope is in you. Help them to remember all the great things you have done on their behalf. Thank you especially for all the progress [child's name] has made and that you are watching over him/her. I praise you for all the great things you have in store for this family in days to come.

In Jesus' Name,

Amen
