

Tuesday

Dear Heavenly Father, I thank you that the _____ family can come to you each and every day, new and afresh. I thank you that you do not grow weary of hearing their voices or of hearing about those things that are heavy on their hearts—even if they told you about them just yesterday. I thank you that your love and compassions never fail and that they are new every morning (Lam. 3:22-23).

It is incredible to think that the mercy you have for them today is new and different from any other day they have lived before. Therefore, I ask you for a new thing today. I ask that they would see new and good things in [child's name]'s life today, especially in (name a few areas of concern if known). As I lay these requests before you, help us all to wait in great expectation that you are the God who can accomplish all things.

In Jesus' Name, Amen

March 7

“In the morning, O LORD, you hear my voice; in the morning I lay my requests before you and wait in expectation.”

(Psalm 5:3 NIV)
